Nationalists Sink Red Boats

12 Communist Craft Blasted By Warships

Action Is Biggest Naval Action Since Quemoy Step-Up

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists claimed their warships early today sank 11 Communist torpedo boats and probably a 12th trying to break up a convoy to embattle Quemoy Island.

It was the biggest naval action reported in the 11 days since the Communists stepped up their attack on the Nationalist-held offshore islands.

Earlier, the Nationalists announced their artillery on Quemoy in firing throughout Sunday night sank three Communist gunboats and eight motorized junks in a flotilla near Amoy, the Communist island port blockaded by the Nationalist islands.

Returned to Pescadores

Despite the naval success claimed by the Nationalists, the torpedo boat attack forced the troop carrier to return to the Pescadores Islands without unloading 370 troops destined for Quemoy. Only 30 of the reinforcements made it ashore.

While the naval engagement raged, Red shore batteries pounded Quemoy with renewed fury. The Communists fired 857 shells in an hour and a half and also dumped a 101-shell barrage on tiny Taitan islet 2 1/2 miles south of Amoy.

The combined artillery and sea attack erupted after the quietest day in the Formosa Strait since the Reds began their heavy attack Aug. 23. The Communist shore guns fired only 457 shells Monday.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the Communists had fired about 125,000 shells at the islands in the first 10 days. To evacuate casualties and keep the islands' troop and supply strength up in the face of an invasion threat, the Nationalists have been running right convoys to Quemoy from the Pescadores Islands, 30 miles west of Formosa.

The students are requested to go to the cafeteria upon entering the building. Student Council members will be on hand to direct them.

Girls Are Sentenced On Contributing Count

LISBON — Three Salineville girls were each sentenced to one year at Marysville Reformatory this morning for contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old Kentucky boy.

Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin suspended the reformatory sentence, but gave them each 10 days in county jail. The girls, Mabel Tse-milles of Salineville and Maxine Hicks and Dorothy Wallen of Salineville RD 1, were also placed on three-years' probation.

The Mousie, Ky., boy was given five days in the detention room at the county jail, after which he will be returned to his parents.

Authorities said the girls and the boy had frequented several taverns in the Salineville vicinity.

Total of 607 Have Met Death Since Friday

112 Persons Drown, 86 Others Die; Estimate Was High

(By The Associated Press)
Traffic ..... 409
Drownings ..... 112
Miscellaneous ..... 86
Total ..... 607

The toll of violent death on America's highways during the extended Labor Day weekend fell short of record proportions.

But there was no comfort in the knowledge for relatives and friends of the more than 400 dead in summer's last surge of holiday traffic.

An estimated 30 million cars were on the highways Monday, the windup of summer's last long holiday.

May Surpass Estimate

The final count may surpass the estimate. But it did not appear likely it would reach the 1957 Labor Day holiday total of 445 or the record high toll for a Labor Day period of 461 in 1951.

However, the over-all accident death total may equal the count of 636 for last year's three-day Labor Day period, but below the record high for the holiday of 659 in 1951.

In the country's three major summer holiday periods—Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day—more than 1,140 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents. All the holidays extended over a period of 78 hours. The Labor Day count was from 6 p. m. (local time) last Friday to midnight Monday. The traffic toll for the Fourth of July holiday was 370; for the Memorial Day period it was 371.

An Associated Press survey, made for comparative purposes, showed 300 traffic fatalities in a 78-hour nonholiday weekend period Aug. 15-18. Drownings totaled 78 and miscellaneous types of accidents, including fires and plane crashes, were 94.

Race Rioters Fight in London

Police Break Up Mob With Big Dogs

LONDON (AP) — Race rioters rampaged through London's Notting Hill district Monday night for the third successive night.

It was early morning before police with big Alsatian dogs cleared the streets of the mob of more than 2,000 whites, most of them teen-agers.

The rioters systematically smashed windows of Negro homes. The embattled residents retaliated by hurling bottles from the streets. One homemade gasoline bomb also was thrown down, but the fire was put out quickly.

One white man was stabbed in the shoulder. Scores of other persons had minor injuries.

34 Persons Arrested

Police arrested 34 persons bringing to 57 the total arrested in London since racial disturbances broke out again Saturday night.

In the neighboring Paddington district, gangs of white youths wrecked a cafe frequented by Negroes.

Britain's racial friction stems from competition — for housing, jobs and girls—between native-born poor whites and the swelling tide of colored immigrants from the West Indies and other areas of the Commonwealth.

Nottingham also had weekend race violence. There a mob of 1,600 whites moved on the city's colored quarter Sunday night but police patrols drove them off. Five of the rioters were sentenced to three months in prison and 19 were fined.

Home Secretary Richard A. Butler was reported satisfied that the police could handle the situation. But he ordered a special report on the riots.

A social worker in Notting Hill said the rampaging teen-agers "are just looking for excitement."

'Ella' Whistles 350 Miles Off Miami Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Ella whistled up the center of Cuba today, about 350 miles south-southeast of Miami. Winds of 60 miles an hour were forecast for the Florida Straits.

Flash flooding was expected in central and western Cuba as Ella extended its gale force winds outward 150 miles to the north and 50 miles to the south.

Gale warnings were in effect from Palm Beach, and Fort Myers, Fla. southward to the Florida Keys and Florida Straits.

Reports from Cuba indicated Ella broke up some while passing off the coast of eastern Cuba.

This is the region where rebel Fidel Castro and his men have been fighting the Cuban government.

The hurricane, the season's third, was moving toward the west-northeast at 16 m.p.h.

The hurricane was about 50 miles west of Camaguey, Cuba and 300 miles southeast of Key West.

Ohio Girl Drowns In Mohican State Park

LOUDONVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Blonde, blue-eyed Brenda Leatherman was only 2 1/2, but she was an independent tot who liked to do things for herself, relatives said. Otherwise, she might be alive today.

Alone she went to an outdoor public latrine in Mohican State Park near where her family was camping, tumbled 10 feet through a foot-wide opening and drowned.

Her body was found only about 100 feet from where she last was seen, but it took a search of more than 15 hours.

Almost 1,500 volunteers participated, including prisoners from Ashland County Jail. Bloodhounds were used, too. And early Monday morning a helicopter and two airplanes joined in the hunt. Most of the 4,500-acre park, including densely forested hills and ravines, were covered.

The child was reported missing shortly after 5 p. m. Sunday. Her body was identified by her hysterical parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Leatherman of Wadsworth, at about 8:30 a. m. Monday. She was their only child.

east coast today, the Icelandic coast guard reported.

An official statement, broadcast by the government-owned radio, gave the Icelandic people a graphic account of the fight.

It said a rough battle ensued when an Iceland gunboat's crew attempted to seize the British trawler Northern Foam. The British frigate Eastbourne steamed to the trawler's side and took the Icelanders off, the radio said.

All this happened off the eastern tip of Iceland. It is the first reported violent contact in the nearly two-day-old fishing dispute between Iceland and Britain.

While the struggle at sea was going on the trawler Northern Foam drifted in about four miles from the Icelandic coast, the radio said.

The British Embassy here said the Eastbourne was awaiting specific instructions what to do with the captured Icelandic coast-guardmen.

Confusion At Sea

In the confusion at sea, the coast guard said, the British navy tried to return its captives "but the coast guard commander refused to take them back." The coast guard said the Eastbourne then steamed away.

(Royal naval headquarters in London reported no violence occurred in the incident.)

Britain has refused to recognize Iceland's extension of its territorial waters to 12 miles off the coast. The new limit, which sets up a can on foreign fishermen inside the 12-mile line, took effect at midnight Sunday. The British trawler fleet immediately challenged the ban by moving to their traditional fishing grounds in the prohibited waters.

There was no shooting on the first day of Britain's defiance of the new limit, although the British managed to foil a boarding attempt yesterday by some fast maneuvering.

Little Rock Tension Eased

School Postponement Approved by Board

(By The Associated Press) — Postponement of the opening of Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., until Sept. 12 eased tension in that center of the integration struggle as new tests loomed in Virginia and Mississippi today.

The Little Rock School Board voted 5-1 for the delay Monday night in a show of good faith with the U. S. Supreme Court.

Whether Negroes would be admitted Sept. 14 apparently depended on what the court decides after hearing oral arguments on the Little Rock case Sept. 11.

On the other hand, Gov. Orval E. Faubus has said he would close the 2,000-pupil school "if necessary for the peace of the community" should the court order integration resumed.

In Alexandria, Va., the legality of the amended version of Virginia's Pupil Placement Act may be tested in federal court during a hearing on a motion to order Arlington County to admit 30 Negro pupils into its white schools.

Plans To Enroll. At Gulfport, Miss., Negro minister Clennon King planned to enroll his 6-year-old daughter in all white North Central School.

In an apparently related incident, a black-faced effigy was found hanging from a flagpole on the federal building in downtown Gulfport. It was removed immediately.

At Raleigh, N.C., litigation over racial mixing in the public schools flared briefly.

Federal Dist. Judge Edwin M. Stanley refused to grant a court order for admission of Joseph Hiram.

Lisbon Boys Admit Dozen County Thefts

Two Lisbon area boys, arrested six minutes after they stole a fender skirt in East Liverpool Monday night, have admitted about a dozen thefts throughout Columbiana County in which they stripped cars, including five in Salem, and robbed a junk yard and a strip mine, East Liverpool police said.

William G. Moore, 18, Box 45, Lisbon, an his 17-year-old companion from Lisbon RD 1, were arrested following the theft of a fender skirt from a car outside the East Liverpool American Legion Home.

Moore was given a 60-day term in county jail today by East Liverpool Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw when he pleaded guilty to violation of a state law set up especially against theft of parts from an auto.

His companion will be remanded to juvenile court.

After the arrest, Moore and his companion admitted to thefts from five parked cars in Salem Sunday and thefts of accessories from two cars in Lisbon.

They also admitted taking parts from autos on the Davis used car lot on Rt. 45, thefts from an Elk-run strip mine and robbery of the Prizzanti junk yard on Rt. 164, police said.

In their auto or cached at their homes were 16 hubcaps, two sets of tires, tubes and wheels, several fender skirts and auto radio antennas, police said.

Police said the two boys were spotted by Legion members when they stole a fender skirt off the auto of James Powers of Glenmoor. The Legion officials telephoned police with a description of the boys' car. Six minutes later Patrolman Paul Carter halted the car and arrested the pair.

Democrats, Republicans Battle For 47 Strategic House Seats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty-seven marginal congressional districts in 15 Midwest and Western states are beginning to look like the promised land to major party strategists battling for control of the House.

In the 15 states, stretching from Ohio to the Pacific Coast, there are 26 House seats Republicans won by a whisker in 1956 and 21 in which Democrats nosed out their opponents by less than 5 per cent of the votes.

While neither party is going to ignore similar situations in Eastern states like Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the suspicion is mounting in both camps that the people who live west of the Ohio River are going to have a major voice in saying who runs the House for the next two years.

When Congress went home to campaign, Democrats held a comfortable House margin of 35 seats. The lineup was 232 Democrats, 197 Republicans and 6 vacancies.

Rep. Michael J. Kirwan of Ohio, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, has predicted his party's edge will be increased by 30 in the November elections.

Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania, head of the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee, has not been as optimistic. But he has joined Republican National Chairman Meade ALCORN in contending there has been a recent upturn in their party's prospects.

The Midwestern states of Illinois, Missouri and Kansas seem likely to furnish the hottest battleground in the marginal districts.

In 1956, Illinois and Missouri each had six areas where the margin between opposing candidates was less than 5 per cent.

Democrats are taking aim at Kansas too, where they regard four of the five GOP-held seats as marginal. They plan strenuous efforts to capture these four GOP seats as well as to save the one marginal seat they hold in Kansas.

Government Names Equipment Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — A large-scale merger of civilian and military long-range radar equipment to scan the skyways was announced by the government today.

Joint use of the electronic eyes for civil air traffic control and for air defense is expected to save many millions of dollars and allow smoother performance of both types of operations.

Civil Aeronautics Administrator James T. Pyle and Lt. Gen. J. H. Atkinson, chief of the Air Defense Command, announced the program scheduled to go into effect some time this fall.

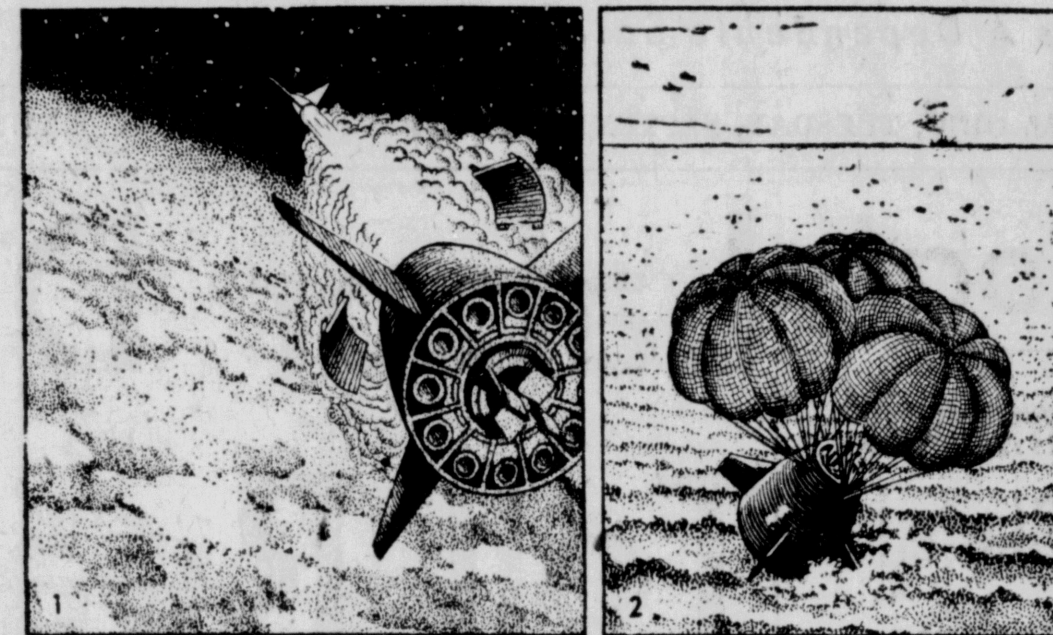

Initial plans call for joint use of 1 high-power radar facilities of 31 high-power radar capability reported at 135 to 200 miles. More radar sets are planned for the joint service later.

The CAA intends to employ the radar for its air traffic control tasks. The Air Force, Army and National Guard will use it for air defense. The heavy radar equipment stretches across the country from Seattle to Miami.

Besides allowing lower equipment and operating costs, the joint use cuts down on radar interference and coordination problems.

The CAA estimated that of the 100 radar sets planned for the air traffic control system more than half will be for joint use by the military.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (14)—Men in Orbit

(1) The man-carrying rocket has now been lifted beyond the atmosphere. First stage has dropped away and is parachuting into the ocean. With power of second stage exhausted, rocket coasts to height of several hundred miles.

At precise moment when it is parallel to Earth's surface, automatic controls ignite third stage and explosive bolts blast it loose from second stage. This second stage shown here is not designed to be recoverable, but will disintegrate from friction or crash into the sea.

More advanced rockets may have all three stages piloted, each a self-contained glider to be flown back to Earth.

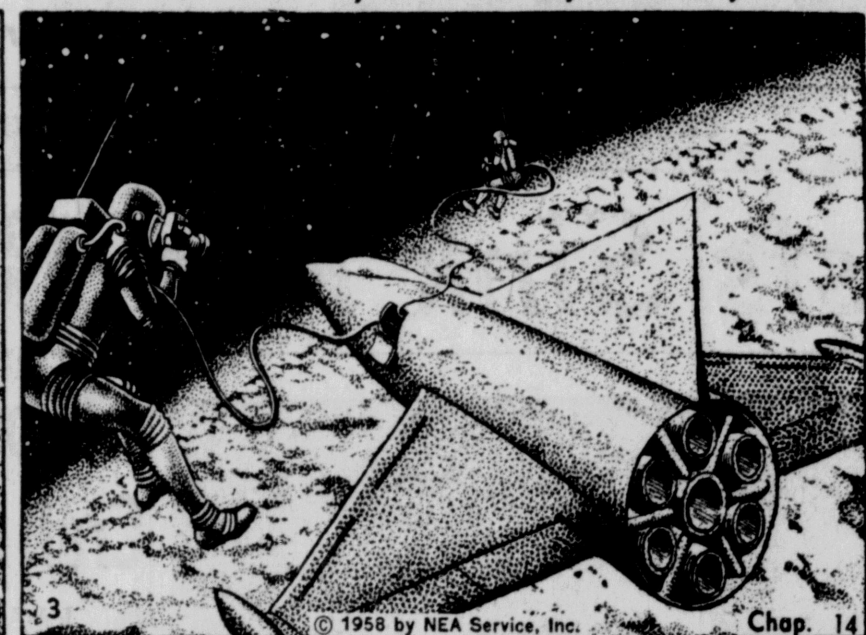

(2) Because first stage reached a lower speed and altitude, it probably can be recovered for reuse. When it separated from the assembly, strong, heat-resistant metal mesh parachutes were ejected to slow its fall to the surface of the ocean. With fuel tanks empty, the rocket is buoyant. Its radio transmitter aids picket ships in retrieving it.

(3) Attaining orbital velocity, rockets of the manned section are cut off as the vehicle—now a satellite—begins its silent revolutions about the Earth. It is constantly falling, but Earth's surface curves away from it as it falls. The satellite's centrifugal force just balances the pull of gravity.

Severely buffeted by three periods of intense acceleration—first stage, coast, second stage, coast; third stage, coast—the spacemen are now experiencing the phenomenon of weightlessness over a long period of time.

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

Next: Return to Earth.

Although they will be wearing spacesuits, the first human "orbiters" probably will not leave the protection of their cabin. They will complete only a few revolutions around the Earth, as instruments record radiation intensity and their body reactions. They will then begin the difficult job of descending from orbit.

But eventually, men will not be able to resist the challenge of emerging from their ship as shown above and becoming, in effect, separate satellites themselves as they float in space. Not until then will man truly be in space.

Next: Return to Earth.

Firemen Miss Firehouse Fire In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—"The firehouse is on fire," an excited caller told the fire tower operator Monday. It was no joke.

The situation, enough to make a firefighter blush fire-engine red, was this:

Early Monday afternoon, the 10 members of Pumper Co. 32 and Ladder Co. 12 dashed out to answer an alarm that turned out to be no fire—just smoke from a fumigation job.

But when they came back, the firefighters were embarrassed to find Pumper Co. 39 dousing a fire in their kitchen.

In haste to leave, the cook had forgotten to turn off the gas under a pot of grease heating for french fried potatoes. A neighbor turned in the alarm.

27 Persons Are Injured In Fireworks Accident

DETROIT (AP) — Eleven children and 16 adults were injured Monday night when a defective aerial bomb exploded at a fireworks display in suburban River Rouge.

The bomb exploded near the top of a crowded grandstand. It was designed to explode in the air twice but instead went off only once and then plunged into the grandstand where it blew up again. An estimated 8,000 persons were watching the show.

All but two of those injured were given first aid and released. Hospitalized with burns and lacerations of the face, arms and legs were Mrs. Lillian Keith, 33, and Dorothy Becker, 19, both of suburban Lincoln Park.

Officials of the 10th annual Rouge Days held at the Great Lakes Athletic Field were unable to explain what caused the bomb to malfunction. One witness said it went off with "a sound like a big stick of dynamite."

Your Auto's Worth vs. Expenses

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

Your car giving you a headache?

There are two possible reasons for this. Either you've worn that jalopy to the point where it no longer is economical for you to drive, in which case you had better trade it in for another. Or, you don't know how to budget your car.

Is this a good time to be thinking about another car—new or used? The answer depends upon how badly out of repair your automobile is and upon prices in your part of the country.

For the most part, used car prices have been moving upward in recent months, although the pickup in new car sales may just be beginning.

As for price tags to be hung on '59 models, Detroit hasn't yet said. There is a general feeling, however, that car makers will give us the chance to spend more for our '59 models via offerings of extra and expensive accessories.

WHAT ABOUT financing a new purchase? Shop around and compare the cost of a bank loan versus a installment purchase. You should lump the cost of your loan into the price of the car and call that the total cost.

Can you be absolutely specific about how much it will cost you to operate your car? If you figure this you should be able to estimate pretty closely.

Divide what you'll spend into fixed costs which include depreciation, the interest on the loan you have obtained in order to purchase the car, license, property costs, tires, repairs, oil, gas, lubrication, and miscellaneous.

Depreciation is a loss of value. It's the difference between what you paid for the car and what a buyell vigej ofuohrywueotiw buyer will give you for it when you go to sell.

HOW MUCH of a cost should depreciation be? A recent study by the Public Affairs Press in Washington shows that $2,000 and $3,000 cars depreciate about 29 per cent in the first year, 16 per cent the second year, then 12 per cent, 10 per cent, 7 per cent the fifth through the eighth years of use and about 2 per cent per year thereafter. The $4,000 and $5,000 cars, they find, average less percentage depreciation on the first two years.

This study advises that you put about 6 per cent of your loan aside for carrying charges. Your other fixed costs vary widely with the area in which you live.

Operating costs depend upon how many miles you drive your car per year, how many miles you get to the gallon of gas, how much lubrication and maintenance your particular car at its particular age requires.

Breaking down costs should not only give you an idea of how much of your annual income you should earmark for the operation of your car, but matched against the figures we've offered, tell you whether your present car is rendering the service it should.

In a prepared address, Ross L. Malone, president of the American Bar Ass., asked for Legion backing for the bar's 'campaign to increase the effectiveness of our courts by removing the selection of the judges of state courts from the arena of partisan politics.'

Malone told the convention judicial reform plans have been adopted in Missouri, California and Alaska and are in various stages of consideration in Illinois, Kansas, Ohio, Oregon, West Virginia and Iowa.

McElroy, Malone Talk At Legion Convention

CHICAGO (AP)—After a week-end of parading and merrymaking, the American Legion moves into the serious aspects of its 40th annual national convention today.

Some 3,000 delegates, in three days of business sessions in the Chicago Stadium, are to pass on some 600 resolutions ranging from child welfare to 'Americanism.'

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy speaks tonight at the annual National Commander's Dinner.

An all-day parade along Michigan Avenue by some 50,000 marchers, units of all military services and their massed colors, decorative floats and about 8,000 musicians featured the Labor Day activities.

In one prepared resolution, the Legion will be asked to reject a proposal for a general pension for all World War I veterans in favor of an increase in present non-service disability pension rates and relaxation of outside income restriction governing such pension.

In a prepared address, Ross L. Malone, president of the American Bar Ass., asked for Legion backing for the bar's 'campaign to increase the effectiveness of our courts by removing the selection of the judges of state courts from the arena of partisan politics.'

Malone told the convention judicial reform plans have been adopted in Missouri, California and Alaska and are in various stages of consideration in Illinois, Kansas, Ohio, Oregon, West Virginia and Iowa.

Unorthodox Politician

By JAY G. HAYDEN

Both Parties Are Observing Maine's Elections

While "As Maine goes so goes the nation" long has been an exploded dictum, leaders of both parties are watching closely for the returns from that state's last early election, Sept. 8, as the first valid indicator as to November voting in all other states.

Possibly because of Republican loss of the governorship in 1954 and 1956, although President Eisenhower carried the state by close to 2½ to 1 in the latter year, the Republican legislature initiated and the voters adopted a move to exclusive November elections.

That provision will operate for the first time in 1960, exactly 100 years since Maine's first jump-start election operated for the first time to give Abraham Lincoln a big lift with 62,811 votes, as against 26,692 for his leading opponent, Stephen A. Douglas.

The key political figure in Maine, now as in 1954 and 1956, is Edmund A. Muskie, twice elected Democratic governor and now running for the senatorial seat occupied by Republican Frederic G. Payne.

In 1954 Muskie knocked off incumbent Gov. Burton M. Cross, 15,673 to 113,238 and in 1956 swamped his Republican challenger Willis A. Trafton Jr., 180,254 to 124,355.

IT REMAINS to be seen whether a peculiarly local and non-partisan pursuit, will prove a success, running for national office. At all times he has avoided discussion of any issues outside of Maine as far as possible. In 1956, even though he was himself already elected, he gave only nominal support to the Democratic national ticket and said not one unkind word about President Eisenhower.

Muskie's campaign this year has been just as non-partisan—so much so that Sen. Payne has spent most of his time trying to smoke him into declaring himself for or against such works of the Democratic Congress as a 90-percent-of-parity farm price support, vetoed by President Eisenhower, niggardiness in allowance of foreign aid funds and no legislation at all dealing with mispractices of organized labor.

Even more remarkable, Muskie has failed to seek advantage for himself from Sen. Payne's admitted involvement in the Adams-Goldfine affair.

Sen. Payne was quick to confess that he had accepted from Goldfine a vicuna coat, free hotel rooms and a $3,500 interest-free loan as down payment on a home in Washington. But like Gov. Adams, En. Payne attributed these benefactions to long time personal friendship and denied that he ever had done anything officially in Goldfine's behalf.

It may be an evidence of Muskie's political astuteness that he not only has kept still himself as to his opponent's relationships with Goldfine and Adams but he has managed to hold all other top flight Maine Democrats to that course.

MUSKIE'S THEORY, his friends say, is that the whole matter has been so thoroughly reported by press and radio that every voter in Maine knows every angle concerning it. Then why not, he argues, leave each individual to figure things out for himself?

If Payne is found at fault by his fellow citizens they are sure to so express themselves at the polls. And on the other hand, appearance that the Democrats were using the issue in attempt to gain votes for themselves, otherwise undeserved might cause a backfire of sympathy.

Judged by his past record Sen. Payne is no push-over. He has been running for office since 1935, so far without defeat — mayor of Augusta, 1935-41; state commissioner of finance and director of the budget, 1940-42; governor for two terms, 1949-53 and senator for the past six years.

National observers are likely to look more to the returns as a whole than to the senatorial contest. For example, election of a governor to replace Muskie is a prime Republican aim and they are hoping to gain back one of three congressional seats, lost by election of Frank M. Coffin, Democrat, over Charles P. Nelson in 1956.

On the other hand if the Republicans should lose the senatorship and two or more congressional seats, a national landslide would be truly in the air.

Liberals Can't Lose

By RAYMOND MOLEY

It is a matter of interest, historically that the long arm of the late Harry Hopkins has now placed before the voters of New York a narrow choice for governor—a choice which may leave many voters inert and absent on election day.

Hopkins, who hated capitalism, loved to enjoy the company and entertainment of sons of departed capitalists.

Some of these companions of his off hours, through the Hopkins influence, went on to glory. Prominent among them were the late Edward R. Stettinius Jr. who ended up as secretary of state and Averell Harriman, who occupied a long list of elevated offices.

There were others, including Nelson Rockefeller, who filled a number of lesser posts beginning in 1940.

There is very little to distinguish the political views of the two candidates, Harriman and Rockefeller. Both are pronounced "liberals" favoring more federal spending at home and abroad, more deference to the great power of labor union leaders, and more federal control of everything.

IN FACT, Harriman was one of the first who suggested that Rockefeller would be a good Republican candidate for governor.

As one liberal remarked, "We can't lose."

Another interesting fact about the candidates is that while Rockefeller, the Republican, was the favored candidate of the present Democratic governor, the Democrats nominated for U.S. senator, Frank S. Hogan, who was former Republican Gov. Dewey's choice to succeed himself as district attorney. The Californians have their curious cross-filing. New Yorkers have cross-fertilization.

It is such amusing quirks in the game of politics that give taxpayers at least a laugh for their money.

Another aspect, not so amusing, was the fact that Republicans—mobilized in a great hurrah promoted by what Thomas E. Dewey called the "station-wagon set," mainly in Westchester County—did another "Wilkie blitz" for Rockefeller.

They trampled under foot the legitimate aspirations of Leonard Hall, who has probably done more for the Republican party in New York and the nation than any other living political leader of his time.

On the Democratic side, the bosses of the Democratic party crushed the legitimate aspirations of James A. Farley, who certainly in the past did more for the Democratic party in New York and the nation than any other living political leader.

IN THIS RUTHLESS business of politics, the past is past. Alben Barkley's expression for political ingratitude was "What have you done for me—lately?"

The Hogan nomination was put over by Tammany Leader Carmine

G. de Sapio over the opposition of Gov. Harriman and Mayor Wagner of New York, who were anxious to appease the splinter Liberal party.

I am not doing De Sapio an injustice in pointing out that the removal of Hogan from his present post as New York's district attorney will be comforting the useful to Tammany. The office itself is a rich plum with a host of appointees. Also, the presence of an able and incorruptible district attorney is disquieting to any Tammany regime.

Nobody knows what Hogan's views are on any national issue, but Tammany is not concerned with issues. It is interested in spoils and in being left alone.

In the Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, Rep. Kenneth Keating, the voters have a man not well known downstate but one who is in his career in the House has a fairly consistent record of supporting Eisenhower policies—whenever those policies were clear.

As senator he would be far less "liberal" than his colleague Javits, but considerably to the left of a conservative such as Sen. John W. Bricker.

With the shifting of population in the state, the election will be determined by the immense vote of New York City. And that is decidedly a Democratic vote.

Riches To Running In 3 Generations

Voters of New York State, who expect to see almost everything in the course of a lifetime, do not seem to be particularly impressed with a contest between a Harriman and a Rockefeller for governor this fall.

On second thought, there isn't anything to be particularly impressed with, because the trend of private wealth toward public service is now a common phenomenon.

It may well be that in the years ahead it will lead more and more of the scions of wealthy parents and grandparents into the hurly-burly of office-seeking. Up to now, most of them have been willing to stop a philanthropy and various forms of good works.

Gov. Averell Harriman, renominated by New York Democrats, has made no secret of his unwillingness to stop at governor; he would have liked to run for president in 1956. Nelson A. Rockefeller, his Republican opponent, has not had enough time to talk about any aspiration of that size yet, but even before he was given the nomination by acclamation at Albany the seers and soothsayers were looking ahead to his availability in 1960.

The one-time notion that wealth was a political handicap has vanished. As former President Hoover has pointed out, in explaining why he can afford to give his presidential pension to charity, a modern president cannot afford to do what the independently wealthy mining engineer did when he was in the White House — give away his salary. He must live on it as nearly as he can and hope the rest will be forthcoming.

Whether it might be in Albany or in Washington, the rest would be forthcoming in abundance for the third generation of Harriman may be in the making: To be a success in politics, pick a grandfather who struck it rich before income taxes and a father who knew how to make the fortune grow and grow and grow.

It Was An Historic Skirmish

With deep sympathy for those who guessed wrong, the people who fought the sack style that was scheduled to make dress-trade history this year are glad they won.

Dress-trade history was made, sure enough. But not the way it was supposed to be made. As well as replacing female wardrobes in a recession period and thereby stimulating business, the dress trade learned it must not affront the sensibilities of the male in clothing designs for females.

Whether women dress to please men or to please other women is a moot question. Undoubtedly, they have both aims in mind. But the anguished cries of men when women began to lose their shape last spring made many a woman wary of following fashion at the cost of displeasing the man in her life.

Today, "sack" and "chemise" are words the dress trade would like to forget. It is not that the styles did not earn their way; they did that. It is the way they revealed the hazard of male resistance.

From now on, designers will have to please both the male and the female, whereas in years past they aimed to please only the female. The male, they assumed, would follow along. It never crossed their minds before that he would not follow unless he could see what he was following.

Asian government makes wards of its best chess players, freeing them from the necessity of earning a living.

But this year the United States came up with a chess sensation of its own—15-year-old Bobby Fischer of Brooklyn, N.Y., who won the U.S. championship.

Young Bobby and James Sherwin, U. S. international master, are now competing at Portoroz, Yugoslavia, in an Interzonal Tournament. The latest word is that the Russians are still ahead.

Their fellow Americans wish Bobby and Sherwin well in this cold war of wits. Who knows? In years to come, Bobby might yet wrest the world chess championship for our country and atone for Sputnik.

This Could Be It

Columnist David Lawrence, who has been querulous about the rejection of the Supreme Court hobbles designed by the Eastlands and Jenners during the life of the 85th Congress, now seems to have pinned down the ultimate responsibility.

"Just what Lyndon Johnson's true motive was in sponsoring the death of so many bills desired by his Southern colleagues set off quite a lot of conjecturing in the press galleries at the Capitol," observed a Lawrence column concerning Sen. Johnson's role in keeping Eastland at bay and holding Jenner within bounds.

Rejecting the Lawrence theory that the Democratic leader of the Senate did this because he is running for his party's presidential nomination and is coddling favor in the North, we suggest; another motive that is at least equally credible.

It could be that Sen. Johnson is a patriot who realizes that a country divided against itself cannot endure and thinks it is his duty as leader of the majority party to do everything in his power to block the divisionists who concentrated on the Supreme Court during the 85th Congress.

If that makes the senator from Texas a presidential candidate, it is a platform with more merit to it than the one currently being used by another presidential aspirant, Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas.

By H. I. Phillips

many of its voters would be offended by the idea of a soft drink when thirsty.

THIS IS NO KNOCK on Hogan. Congress has been so slow in positive action against crooks that a D.A. in its midst could be a fine thing. (He is sure to get the vote of N.Y. hoodlums, as they will be glad to get him out of the state)

Mr. Hogan has been district attorney so long, force of habit will lead to some strange Senate speeches, if elected for a time he may begin his remarks with "Will the gentleman come clean?" "I demand that my Republican opponent confess or else" and "Enough of this debate; let us get down to the indictment"

Mr. Hogan promises to do something about our foreign policy, and, despite his long residence in the arga, he doesn't mean Brooklyn or the Bronx We look for a stern "So you won't talk" to Khrushchev and a "Where you on the night in question?" to Nasser.

Little Rock Delay

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Little Rock school board wants the Supreme Court to delay integration at Central High 2½ years because of the trouble integration has caused. But the board hasn't taken the obvious steps itself to end the trouble.

That's the Eisenhower administration's argument, as expressed through the Justice Department's Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin. He told the court Thursday the trouble-makers in Little Rock are limited in number but that:

1. The board could have but did not seek a federal court injunction in Little Rock to stop any outsiders from interfering with the school's orderly integration. Violation of such an injunction could mean jail.

2. The board could have expelled the students causing trouble inside the school — Rankin said only about 25 of them took part in sluggings, spittings and name-calling — but bounced only two.

Rankin joined Thurgood Marshall, lawyer for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, in asking the court to refuse the 2½-year delay and order integration resumed immediately. Integration in Central High started last year.

The two men argued that to delay integration because of the troublemakers would be like an invitation to any group, which disliked a court order anywhere, to block it by violence.

The most the board's lawyer — Richard C. Butler — could say was that continued integration at Central High would mean more trouble, the return of federal troops and interference with Little Rock's education program.

This didn't seem to impress Chief Justice Warren, who asked Butler: "Can we afford to defer a program of this kind merely because there are elements in a community that will commit violence to prevent it from going into effect?"

It seems like a good guess the court will turn down the board. Rankin further told the court that before the school board sought a delay there was no evidence it had asked the help of any state or city officials to cope with the disturbances of which it complained.

In its special session Thursday, the court heard arguments from all sides but postponed a decision. Here is a brief explanation of the legal situation which by now is getting complicated:

Africa's Peril

By TOM HENSHAW

Christianity is facing a stern test in Africa.

It's so stern, in fact, that Dr. Roy G. Ross, general secretary of the National Council of Churches, has warned that opportunities for Christian missionary work in Africa may soon come to an end.

The problem is basically the same as that which confronts the Western world politically — an aroused spirit of nationalism and a color-consciousness line that is being drawn from the opposite direction.

Why has African nationalism chosen Christianity as one of its antagonists?

Ben J. Marais, professor of Christian history at the University of Pretoria, South Africa, writing in the fortnightly Christianity Today, explains it this way: "For generations we Western Christians have become accustomed to the fact that the nominally Christian nations of Europe or the West were the masters of the world."

"Ours was the religion of the conquering West, of Western man, the rulers of the world."

During the past 400 years, the power exercised by the whites over colored peoples has left "a terrible legacy of racial tensions," adds Chandran Devanesan, a professor at Madras Christian College in India.

The hatred built up by colored peoples, he says, "often makes them blind . . . to the real nature and purpose of the church as a fellowship which seeks to transcend all barriers of race and color."

The surge of nationalism also has sharpened the rivalry between Christianity and Islam, the Christian missionary's oldest organized adversary on the Dark Continent.

The Rev. John McGee, a Southern Baptist missionary stationed in Nigeria, reported recently that the Arab world is raising 50 million dollars for a campaign to make all Africa Moslem.

Islam, as it appears in Africa, is a difficult thing for Christian professional clergy. It has no central organization. It makes no organized effort to found schools, hospitals, missions.

Why, then, is Islam such a formidable opponent?

Cleveland Man Visits Premier Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP) — Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton said after a long talk with Premier Khrushchev Monday that the Premier feels the arms race is an expensive operation that the Soviet Union wants to end.

Eaton, here as guest of the Soviet Ministry of Agriculture, said he discussed disarmament with Khrushchev in a 95-minute meeting in the Kremlin. The two met shortly after Khrushchev returned from a vacation at a Black Sea resort.

Eaton said Khrushchev told him that the Soviet Union wanted to be relieved of the expense involved in developing new weapons.

Eaton said the Soviet Premier told him that he felt the U.S. State Department was antagonistic toward the Soviet Union, but added that he would like to visit the United States.

Khrushchev expressed concern, Eaton said, over foreign journalists who return to the West after short visits to the Soviet Union and report that the Russian people are friendly but that the Soviet about the U. S. government.

Eaton said Khrushchev told him he knows the American people want peace but he is not so sure about the U. S. government.

Eaton replied that American industrialists — favorite targets of Soviet propaganda — do not want war. He said he told the Soviet Premier that industrialists do not want to pay higher taxes which would go for weapons.

Iceland

Gudmundsson said Iceland had protested to London the "use of force by the British navy" to prevent an Icelandic gunboat from arresting a British trawler.

In a broadcast to his north Atlantic island nation Monday night, Gudmundsson said he had ordered Iceland's ambassador in Paris to report the incident to NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak.

Private talks arranged by Spaak broke down in Paris last Friday after Iceland rejected a proposal to share foreigners' catch and extend its territorial waters only six miles to seaward. British Prime Minister Macmillan offered Sunday to resume these talks but added the dispute might be handed to the U.N. General Assembly meeting Sept. 16.

Feeling ran high against Britain among the 162,000 citizens of the Virginia-sized island. An armed guard was posted at the home of British Ambassador Andrew Gilchrist as a precaution.

British fishermen have been casting their nets in the cold waters off Iceland for decades and claim it is a traditional right. They say Iceland has no legal right to extend its territorial boundary beyond the four miles it claimed until last Sunday midnight.

Iceland contended the wider zone was necessary both to protect the fish spawning grounds and to preserve a large enough share of the catch for Icelandic fishermen, the economic backbone of the nation.

More than 60 British trawlers protected by Royal Navy frigates fished inside the 12-mile limit after it went into effect.

Embroski, Katich Hurl No-Hitters In Tourney Action

Scott's Candy Wins; Merchants Eliminated

Joe Embroski of Butler, Pa., Servantis and Fats Katich of Midland, Pa. CO 1212 gave further notice that they were the pitchers to watch in the Salem Invitational Softball Tourney as both turned in no-hit pitching performances in action Sunday afternoon at Kelly field.

Embroski fanned 17 men in setting down Akron Marko's Body Shop 1-0 while Katich whiffed 12 in beating a very stubborn Niles Alberinis club 1-0.

Tight pitching marked the entire day's program of seven games.

MIDLAND, Pa. Muzzy's Bar won over the Leetonia Merchants 2-1 in the first game. Then came Embroski's no-hitter. In the third game, the Servantis came back to shut out Muzzy's Bar 2-0 on the pitching of Hawdy Crouch.

In the fourth afternoon tilt the Akron Marko Body Shop won over the Leetonia Merchants 4-3 on a seventh inning homer. The Merchants thus became the second team to be eliminated.

In Monday night action, the Akron Club DeLissa defeated Mike Delaquila of the Warren North End AC 3-1. Katich hurled his no-hitter and the Youngstown KC lost to Toronto St. Joseph 7-2.

Sam Ratkovich and John Nuzzo was the battery for Muzzy's Bar in their win over Leetonia. Bill Herman took the loss and was caught by Sam Tingle.

Each team had four hits but Leetonia had two errors.

Butler got only three hits off Bob Stone in their no-hit win. LeMaster and Voelker were the catchers.

Bob Smith of Muzzy's Bar gave up but three hits also in his 2-0 loss to Butler's Crouch. Each team had two errors.

A homerun by Kungie in the sixth with two on gave Marko's Body Shop their 4-3 win over Leetonia. Akron outlived Leetonia 7-5 but also out-erred them 5-2.

Stone was the winner and Herman the loser.

WARREN outlived Club DeLissa 4-2 but the all-negro team from Akron outlived their foe to notch a 3-1 verdict.

Franklin and Shy was the winning battery and Delaquila and Reed the losing pitcher and catcher.

Hughes had a inside the park homer for Akron.

Midland, Pa. 1212 had to go the distance to defeat Niles. Their winning marker came in the seventh on Bob Boston's single followed by a three-base error on the same hit. Boston scored all the way from first when the ball rolled to the fence in left.

Niles got a man to second with none out in the bottom of the seventh. Katich then retired the next three via strikeouts.

Putigano and Cline were Niles battery.

In the seventh game played Monday, Toronto beat Youngstown behind the two hit pitching of Amos. Petras caught him.

Shane and Granito was the losing battery. Youngstown had seven errors and became the third team to become eliminated lowering the original field of 32 to 29.

The biggest game so far in the tournament will come off next Sunday afternoon when Midland, Pa. 1212 plays the Butler Servantis. It will be no-hit Embroski against no-hit Katich, no doubt.

Salem Scott's Candy used the homerun ball to defeat Girard Hubbell Sunday afternoon. Dick Wyss, Jim Barnes and Roger Stille all hit for the circuit.

Wyss' blast gave Salem a 1-0 lead in the first. Barnes' homer along with Dick Boughton's single, a walk to Joe Tucker and Stille's smash pushed Salem on top 5-1 after three and one-half frames.

THEY HUNG ON to win handily. Muscles Russell was the winning pitcher for Salem. He allowed six hits. Ken Schoeni was his receiver. Bill Headley was the starter and loser. He got help from Ted Ramsbottom, Jack Streb caught for Girard.

Youngstown Local 1331 and Canton Lattava Bros. were tied 1-1 in the seventh when the rains came and washed out the remainder of the contest.

A third game Sunday afternoon between Midland, Pa., Muzzy's Bar and the Leetonia Merchants was also washed out.

On Sunday night with the field covered with water, Dave Briskin, association executive - secretary; Rusty Tomlinson, park superintendent; and Doggie Scullion, public address announcer, along with several team members, managed to make the field ready for play.

With the help of 15 gallons of gasoline and two vehicles the first of three games started at 8:20 p. m. The trio of tilts lasted till after 1 a. m.

STUEBVILLE Pasquella's defeated the Beaver Falls, Pa. Dutch Club 14-4 but lost immediately then to the Findlay Ohio Oil Co. 6-5. Youngstown Sid's Tavern beat the Beaver Falls team 9-1 in the third game thus eliminating the Pennsylvania entry.

Pasquella's came back in the second game and were edged by Findlay 6-5.

RALPH WAGNER and Clark was the winning battery. Chuck Clemmending started for Steubenville. Lee Furbee came along in the sixth. Izzie began behind the plate and was relieved by Wickham in the seventh.

In tonight's games, East Greenville Hank's Tavern will play Stephanie's Tavern at 7; Farrell, Pa. Num-Nums will meet Youngstown Aerolite at 8 and Massillon Superior Meats will engage Salem Jack's Sohio at 9.

On Wednesday, Herron Transfer of Salem will meet Canton Freedom for Congress at 7; the Youngstown Sid's Bar will play Niles Alberinis at 8 and Girard Hill-Hubbell will play Akron Marko Body Shop at 9.

Yanks, Bosox Divide Twinbill; Baltimore, Detroit Win Two

(By The Associated Press)

Just how good are these New York Yankees who lead the American League by 11½ games? A month ago today they led by 17 games. They've won 14 of 31 games since—a scrawny .452 percentage that's only sixth best in the AL for that span.

With a month to go before their expected return match in the World Series with the champion Milwaukee Braves, the Yankees' great pitching has become so-so. Bob Turley is a 20-game winner, but Whitey Ford and Don Larsen are nursing sore arms. And after those three come Art Ditmar, Bobby Shantz, Johnny Kucks and Duke Maas. Hardly a fearsome foursome. Ryne Duren, the tight-pitch terror of the bullpen, hasn't been the same since he was injured.

Only two regulars — Elston Howard (.329) and Norm Siebern (.303) — are hitting over .300. Mickey Mantle is at .300.

Shantz and Maas came through with complete games in the Labor Day double-header, but the Yankees came off with only a split against Boston, getting only eight hits in a pair of 4-2 decisions. Young Ted Bowsfield (3-0) won the opener with a four-hitter. Maas then matched the four-hit pitching of Ike Delock for the nightcap victory.

Still, the Yankees added a game to their lead. Chicago's second-place White Sox lost a pair to Cleveland 6-5 and 7-1. Baltimore swept Washington 2-0 and 10-1. Detroit took two at Kansas City 7-4 and 5-1.

Dick Gernert's two-run triple broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning of the opener for Boston and Bowsfield sailed. The Yankees scored two in the nightcap first without a hit against Delock (12-5), then put it away on a pair of RBI singles by Bill Skowron in the third and fifth innings. Gene Stephens, still bubbling for ailing Ted Williams, had two of Boston's hits.

Herb Score, Cleveland's jinxed southpaw, made his first appearance since July 13 and saved the opener for Don Ferrarese (2-4) with ninth-inning relief. Billy Pierce (15-9) lost it, beaten by a pair of Sox errors in a three-run third inning and Minnie Minoso's 21st home run, with two on, in the first. Rookie Gary Bell (88) won the nightcap with an eight-hitter while the Tribe batted a dozen hits, one Vic Power's three-run homer, off loser Bob Shaw (5-4) and three relievers.

Jack Harshman (11-11) pailed his third shutout for Baltimore in a four-hit duel with loser Camilo Pascual (7-8) and Dick Hyde in the opener. Bob Nieman drove in both Bird runs, with a sacrifice fly and a single. Billy O'Dell (13-10) won the second game, giving up 11 hits but not walking a man. Gus Triandos and Dick Williams, who drove in four runs, homered for the Orioles. Jim Constance (1-2) lost it as the Nats became the first to be eliminated in the race.

Frank Bolling counted the clincher with a two-run single as the Tigers scored five in the fifth inning of the opener. Then he hit a pair of home runs that backed up the four-hit pitching of Paul Foytack (11-11) in the second game.

WET BACK WINS CLEVELAND (AP) — A record attendance for the racing season in Ohio, 13,021 who bet $820,535, watched Wet Back win the $15,500 Youthful Stakes Monday at Randall Park. Jockey John Rotz, who had four winners in the nine race program, was astride Wet Back which paid $11, $5 and $3.80. Winning time was 1:12 2-5.

Sydney, N. S. — Young Beau Jack, 164, Brockton, Mass., outpointed Gary Simon, 161, New Glasgow, N.S., 10.

Major League Stars (By The Associated Press)

Pitching — Curt Simmons, Phillies, blanked the Pirates on four hits, two of them in eighth inning, while striking out seven and not walking a man for 9-0 victory after Phils had lost opener 5-2.

Hitting — Willie Mays, Giants, had six hits in nine at bats in 8-6 and 6-5 sweep over the Dodgers, hitting a home run and driving in two runs in each game.

Sydney — Billy Todd, 145½ Australia, outpointed Willie Marton, 145½, San Diego, Calif., 12.

He limited the Cubs to eight hits only three of them over the last six innings. He walked only one. It was his fifth victory against two defeats.

The Cubs took the nightcap 9-3. "I felt funny out there for the first three innings or so," said Buhl, who last pitched May 13. "Then I was all right. I used my fast ball, mostly, along with a lot of curves. My curve wasn't the way I'd have liked it, but it got better as I went along."

Buhl, 30, despaired for weeks of every pitching again this season. One specialist suggested that surgery might be necessary to clear up the soreness in his right shoulder. Heat and therapy, though, finally eradicated the trouble a month ago. Then followed spring training all over again, with the payoff Monday.

Buhl, 30, despaired for weeks of every pitching again this season. One specialist suggested that surgery might be necessary to clear up the soreness in his right shoulder. # Indians Sweep Doubleheader

Tribe Humbles Chisox 6-5, 7-1

Bell, Ferrarese Pace Cleveland Attack

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians were back today for their last long home stand of the season, sporting a four-game winning string and only a game and a half away from the lower rung of the American League's first division.

Wednesday night they open with the Kansas City Athletics.

Next weekend three games are scheduled with the second-place Chicago White Sox whom the Indians humbled 6-5 and 7-1 before 17,326 fans in Comiskey Park Monday.

Herb Score made his first appearance since July 15 by pitching 2-3 of an inning in relief in the opener. Side-lined by a sore arm, he rejoined the club only three days ago.

The Indians had a 6-2 lead when Score relieved Don Ferrarese with one out and bases loaded in the ninth. He got the first batter on a pop. Then covering first base on a grounder, Score muffed a throw from Vic Power and threw wild to the plate to let three runs across. But he fanned the next batter, Jim Landis, to save Ferrarese's second victory against four losses.

Minnie Minoso's 21st home run after a single by Bob Avila and a double by Vic Power got Cleveland off to a first-inning 3-0 lead in the opener against Billy Pierce, who took his ninth loss against 15 wins. In the third inning the Tribe added three unearned runs — two when Al Smith dropped a fly and another when Billy Goodman booted a grounder.

Gary Bell rationed eight Chicago hits in the nightcap, with Goodman getting a double and two singles and Doug Mueller three singles. A sacrifice fly by Jim Rivera after singles by Earl Torgeson and Mueller in the fourth ruined Bell's shutout, but he evened his pitching record at 8-8.

Vic Power's 12th home run followed a walk and Mickey Vernon's single in the third inning of the nightcap and sent starter Bob Shaw to defeat.

H. J. Gibbons Faces Senate Questioning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold J. Gibbons gets a chance today to tell how he climbed to the top echelon of the Teamsters Union and became boss of the union's affairs in the St. Louis area.

Gibbons, 47-year-old right-hand man to Teamster President James R. Hoffa, was called by the Senate Rackets Committee, which has been investigating alleged Teamster tieups with hoodlums and charges of Teamster violence in labor disputes.

Previous witnesses have testified that Gibbons, top vice president of the giant truck union, bought one local union outright, directed violence in strikes, and rigged his election as president of the joint council ruling a score of Teamster locals in the St. Louis area.

St. Louis Detective Capt. Thomas L. Moran described Gibbons to the committee last week as a co-habiting associate of underworld characters.

Moran told of beatings, arson and bombings in Gibbons-connected strikes in St. Louis.

EXPERTS URGE MORE OF THESE — A massive attack by Russian submarines, firing hydrogen warhead missiles, could "level our entire urban society." This was the warning in a report by a panel of experts formed to advise the military subcommittee of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee. On the basis of the future danger, the group urged a strong step-up in our submarine-building program, with special emphasis on Polaris missile-firing craft like the one shown in cutaway sketch above. This shows details of the as yet unnamed SSB(N)598, now being built at the Groton, Conn., yards of the Electric Boat Company. Details of the special hold in the center, which stores and fires Polaris, the 1,000-1,500-mile fleet ballistic missile, are secret. The high-speed craft is 180 feet long, with a displacement of 8,600 tons. First of nine designed to fire Polaris while submerged, it will go to sea in the spring of 1960. The Navy already has subs capable of firing the Regulus missile while surfaced.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Outer space is becoming less of a mystery each day. Even youngsters in kindergarten know more about the stratosphere than scientists knew a generation ago. It has been well said that "we know more about outer space than we do about inner peace."

It appears that we have blasted off into the ether more wholeheartedly than we have dug into our old-fashioned, soul-searching problems of love, service and spiritual calm. We have allowed our modern frustrations to become foremost in our lives. We have stirred up our hatreds much more than we have stimulated understanding of others and love for others.

We can excite our frustrations by our own inner confusion, whereas we can enjoy peace only with the assistance of God.

We know that mechanical and human methods will only give us partial relief from tension, but we hesitate to pray for the peace which God gives fully to those who seek it.
